

TAX EVADER FINALLY CHARGED

*The first time I worked to uphold
a sense of fairness.*

Maqsood Khan,
Senior Crown Prosecutor

Can you deliver justice? The Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) are looking for Crown Prosecutors and Senior Crown Prosecutors to join our dynamic workforce across England and Wales.

At the Crown Prosecution Service, we are responsible for delivering justice through the independent and effective prosecution of crime. As the principal prosecuting authority across England and Wales the nature and diversity of cases we advise on and prosecute means our work is often emotionally challenging and complex. As such we employ almost 6,000 individuals who think objectively, act professionally, show the upmost respect for others and continually strive for excellence.

Our Crown Prosecutors and Senior Crown Prosecutors enjoy challenging cases, greater advocacy work and more opportunities to grow in a modern, dynamic organisation. Don't worry, if you've never trained in Criminal Law, you won't be alone. When we meet people whose sense of public duty and societal fairness matches our own, we give them the training to build on law degrees, transition their skills and progress their ambitions.

We are looking for individuals who are committed to public service and make a difference in people's lives and deliver justice. We are committed to delivering the highest standards in this complex and challenging field. Being a Crown Prosecutor or Senior Crown Prosecutor isn't an easy option. We're talking high caseloads, fast-paced days and not a lot of prep time. But it's an exhilarating role in a supportive environment.

Delivering justice is a complex pursuit with work that is sometimes emotionally challenging, which is why we offer a range of benefits including flexible working, civil service pension scheme, access to employee savings including high street retailer offers and discounts and 25 days leave, rising to 30 days after 5 years' service.

If you are committed to public service and are looking for a role at the very forefront of delivering justice, find out more and apply at <https://www.cps.gov.uk/careers-cps>.
