

Regulatory Advocates - May 2019

Full time & part time available - 6 - 12 month fixed term contract

Kingsley Napley is an internationally recognised law firm based in Central London. Our Regulatory team is consistently recognised by Chambers UK and Legal 500 as a leader in the market, and our team of specialist lawyers act for individuals, organisations, corporates and regulators, providing advice on regulatory compliance, investigations, adjudication, enforcement and prosecutions. We pride ourselves on being a friendly, supportive and collaborative firm, and recognition of employee engagement and happiness can be seen in our achievement of being ranked number 16 in The Sunday Times Top 100 companies to work for.

This is an exciting opportunity to join our expanding team, presenting cases before fitness to practise panels on behalf of a regulatory body. Candidates must have a minimum of two years call/PQE with experience of regulatory or professional discipline work, preparing and presenting fitness to practise cases before disciplinary panels preferable.

We are looking for individuals with excellent academic backgrounds, having achieved at least a 2:1 degree. We are seeking advocates who will provide a high standard of client care and advice; who have excellent communication skills and are able to use their initiative and work well under pressure.

Successful applicants will join a large team of committed lawyers working in a friendly and professional environment.
