

When you've been in private practice
When you're driven by public duty
When the time is right to make a change
Can you deliver justice?

Deputy Chief Crown Prosecutors

Various Locations – London (up to £93,247) National (up to £90,718)

We're looking for Deputy Chief Crown Prosecutors to join us in delivering a high-quality service across the full gamut of criminal cases, up to and including complex prosecutions for sexual abuse, fraud and terrorism. Driven by a desire to deliver justice that's in the public interest, your visible leadership and ability to make effective legal decisions will ensure the right offenders are prosecuted for the right crimes, victims and witnesses are supported and a real difference is felt at the heart of communities. As well as permanent positions, these roles are open to individuals as a secondment opportunity from private practice or other Government departments.

For more information, please visit www.odgers.com/69935

Closing Date: 25th February 2019

These posts are regulated by the Civil Service Commission

